

NOTES FROM ANNESDALE SNOWDEN

Where the sun shines, families are thankful, leaves fall, and the wind blows

November 2011

<http://www.annesdale.com/index.html>

Beverly Seaton, Editor in Chief
JoAnne Tucker Turnage, President

(901) 490-3225
(901) 725-7220

amyabby@hotmail.com
jopuzzle@bellsouth.net

Halloween

The Halloween Party was a resounding success.

(Pictures courtesy of Maria Fuhmann)

Shakespeare Wears Plaid

By Linda Oxford

Opening night at Tennessee Shakespeare Company's production of "Macbeth" offered a crisp moonlit October night, the haunting sound of highland bagpipes, a replica of Glamis Castle, and a hearty welcome from Annesdale Snowden neighbors and ushers, Dennis Clark and Stanton Thomas. Clad in full Scottish regalia, including plaid kilts complete with sporrans, Dennis and Stanton represented the Memphis Knights of Saint Andrew, who served as ushers for the production at the newly renovated Wooden O Amphitheater in Shelby Farms. Kudos to Dennis and Stanton for their support of the Elizabethan theater experience and the Tennessee Shakespeare Company, a not-for-profit classical theater company committed to vibrant outdoors performances of Shakespeare's plays and creative education and training programming for students and professionals of all ages.

Many of our neighbors are dedicated supporters of the arts in Memphis, and we hope to feature some of their interests and activities in upcoming editions of the newsletter.

Annesdale Snowden Flea Market October 1

Left: Annesdale neighbors like the Ian Randolph family displayed many bargains. On the right, Kay Edney tries to convince Stanton Thomas to purchase a handy mallet.

ASNA Calendar

November 6 – DST ends – "Fall Back"

November 17 - Board Meeting – Lipinski Home – 6pm

November 24 – Thanksgiving Day

Meteor Showers - The Orionid show will be playing nightly from now until around mid-November. Two somewhat weaker meteor showers, the North and South Taurids, are kicking in as well, reaching peaks on Nov. 5-6 and Nov. 11-12. Then, on the night of Nov. 17-18, the Leonid meteor shower hits prime time.

Neighborhood Election Draws a Crowd

If you did not participate in the Yearly Election of Officers held at the Red Cross Building, you missed an entertaining meeting. Be sure to attend the next meeting so you don't miss the fun and food!

New neighbors Stephanie Kinney and her daughter, Annabelle, pause during the fun to pose for newsletter photo above right. Welcome to Annesdale Snowden!

Annesdale Snowden - Winner at the 2011 Emergency Preparedness Summit

The 2011 Emergency Preparedness Summit was held October 8 at the University of Memphis Holiday Inn. It was a fun and informative event attended by over 300 residents representing neighborhoods from all over Shelby and Desoto County. Our own Ian L Randolph from Central Ave was the event's Master of Ceremonies. Annesdale Snowden captured 2nd prize in its neighborhood size category, $75.00 and a Family Preparedness Kit. Linda Oxford from Dorothy Place accepted the prize for Annesdale Snowden. Each conference attendee received a Ready Shelby bag with a first-aid kit included. Over 25 door prizes were awarded. Three generators were awarded as first prizes. The efforts of Ready Shelby were also recognized as a Best Practices for Tennessee by the Federal Emergency Management Agency – FEMA. Thanks for helping Annesdale win 2nd Place. Submitted by Ian Randolph

Ian & Sandra Randolph with Linda Oxford

Ian Randolph with Dr. Jan Young, E.D. - Assisi Foundation

Some members of the Ready Shelby Neighbors Team

Attendees at the Emergency Preparedness Summit EXPO

Membership Dues $25 make checks payable to ASNA*
Mail ASAP to: Linda Lipinski, 774 Snowden Circle East, Memphis, TN 38104
ASNA Newsletter published by SMA, Inc.

Folded with care by Lipinski Family - Distributed by your friendly neighborhood Block Captain